

Long-Range Tax
Program for
U. S. Industry

Increasing high prices that are the outward mark of an inflationary era are beginning to be suspected of a direct connection with a closed-order, non-competitive setup in American industry and business.

Perhaps the risk undertaken in manufacturing enterprises nowadays justifies this attitude. Certainly there must be something fundamentally wrong when, three years after the war, capital and management are still slow to set up new factories in sufficient quantity to restore competition and bring prices back to normal.

On this score the Arkansas Economic Council-State Chamber of Commerce reports:

"The rewards for risking venture capital and for exercising business initiative continue to be too meager to forth the best efforts of our entrepreneurs. . . . The organization of new enterprises is being discouraged. The further moderation of federal tax burdens is clearly essential."

We might add to that this critical comment on the hearings held in Washington on tax matters: Too much attention is paid to mere dollar earnings, without considering the ratio of earnings to investment. Obviously something is wrong with the federal tax picture for we would have had vast plant expansions, increased production per capita, and lower prices.

Army Day May Have Provided Chukkas for Soviet Observers
By JAMES THRASHER

It would be interesting to know what went through the minds of the Russian army and air force observers who were reviewing stand with President Truman in Washington.

They saw soldiers with rifles. They saw Wacs and Waves. They saw and heard plenty of bands. In all, they watched 15,000 persons march past the stand. But the Russian observers saw no tanks, in fact, they saw only one weapon bigger than the foot soldiers' rifles. That was a 90-millimeter gun.

It would also be interesting to know how they viewed the excerpts from the Army Day speeches throughout the country were translated for them. The information these speeches contained would be familiar. Nevertheless, the tenor of military celebration must have enlightened them.

They probably heard of the Army Chief of Staff's statement that Russia is the only nation capable of waging aggressive war today.

They must have heard that General Wedemeyer called the Army's manpower situation critical, and that he informed the country that five nations have larger armies than America's.

They doubtless were told that General Kenney had spoken of Russia's natural resources as the richest in the world, and that he expressed the belief that Soviet factories are capable of producing 40,000 aircraft a year. And that Assistant Secretary of the Army Gray had confessed that the U. S. Army has only 54,000 men available for combat.

Unless they read their own propaganda with cynical realism, it might have surprised these Russian observers to reflect that they were in the country which, according to Soviet officialdom, is swollen with imperialistic ambition.

Can this be the same America, they might have asked themselves, that the American Henry Wallace talks about? Is this the America whose government is leading the people into war? Is this the America whose policy is to get tough with the Soviet fatherland—this country with a combat army of 54,000 men and only one gun to parade before its President?

We don't know what went through the Russian observers' minds. But we can imagine that they may have chuckled over their vodka and they sat down to dinner in a land which has so much wealth and comfort and abundance, and apparently so little concern about protecting it.

We can even imagine that the next diplomatic pouch from the Soviet Embassy contained a footnote on American militarism, written by the two military observers for the enlightenment and amusement of their superiors in the Kremlin.

Taft Flays
Stassen and Lilienthal

By the Associated Press
Senator Robert A. Taft, battling Harold E. Stassen for Ohio's Republican convention today, also turned his fire today on David Lilienthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission in 1946, said Cleveland last night he will oppose his renomination—and that the other four members. The administration elected next November should choose its own commission, he said. President Truman has nominated Lilienthal for a five-year term.

In a radio interview (MBS), Taft accused Stassen of "preaching in one voice support of the Taft-Hartley law" and at the same time "obviously appealing to the labor vote by criticizing specific portions of the act."

Taft planned a pause in his campaign until Tuesday, when he speaks at Dayton, but Stassen, seeking to wrest 23 of Ohio's 52 delegates from Taft in the May 4 primary, scheduled a speech today in Cleveland.

Stassen called last night for action by the United States and other countries, under the United Nations charter, to halt the spread of Communism.

McMath and
Holt Favor
State Debate

By MORT STERN
Little Rock, April 24 — (UP) — Two candidates for governor said they approve of debating major issues at the University of Arkansas and would probably accept invitations from a student political group to do so, as the 1948 campaign began to take shape today.

Sidney McMath of Hot Springs and former Attorney General Jack Holt of Little Rock said they were receptive to the idea, after being notified that the Student Political League had sent them invitations to participate in a debate June 4.

The announcement of the invitations was made by John Grissom, the league's president. He explained that the league was not endorsing any candidate, but intended the debate and other addresses by leading candidates, as a public service.

"Public discussion of any issue is a good thing," commented McMath as he endorsed the idea in principle.

And Holt declared "I know of no better way for the people of Arkansas to learn what the candidates stand for. They are entitled to know."

"I would be glad to discuss the issues freely and frankly with McMath," Holt added. "Although we are opponents in this race, personally I consider him my friend."

The campus political group also revealed that Horace Thompson had accepted tentatively an invitation to speak May 11, that James Merritt had been invited to speak May 12, and that James (Uncle Mac) Mackrell turned down an invitation.

Meanwhile, Democratic State Committee Secretary Harvey Combs reminded candidates that he would have his filing booth open as usual in the Hotel Marion lobby at Little Rock next Wednesday, until noon.

That is the deadline for filing. With the deadline edging closer, there were eight candidates in the race for governor, two in the race for U. S. senator, three for secretary of state, two for attorney general and three for associate justice of the state supreme court.

McMath, Holt, Merritt, Thompson and Mackrell, all of whom have been filing booth open as usual in the Hotel Marion lobby at Little Rock next Wednesday, until noon.

See of State C. G. Hall drew up opinion from W. B. Homan of Little Rock and D. B. Palmer of Conway.

Assoc. Att. Gen. Ike Murry of Fordyce and Millard Alford of Little Rock were in the race for attorney general.

Associate Justice J. S. Holt of Little Rock was fighting for his place on the bench with R. R. Trimble of Clarendon and Walter Pope of Little Rock.

A number of other incumbents have filed for election to state office but had not as yet received opposition.

In the congressional election, incumbent E. C. Gallings of West Memphis faced James E. McDaniel of Chicago in the first district; incumbent J. W. Trimble of Berryville faced Charles B. Ivy of Bentonville in the third district; John E. Harris and Lee Whitaker of Fort Smith, Roy Blair of Paris, Russell T. Tamm of Fayetteville, and Boyd Tackert of Nashville and George P. Edwards of Texarkana were fighting for the fourth district seat to be vacated by Fadio Cravens of Fort Smith; incumbent Brooks Hays of Little Rock faced George Freeman of Ozark in the fifth district; and incumbent Oren Harris was opposed by Vernon Whitten of Magnolia in the seventh district.

Incumbent Wilbur D. Mills of fourteenth congressional district and circuit judge in both first and sixth judicial circuits, where deaths brought the two openings.

Hal Boyle Discusses Spring
Housecleaning, on Which Men
Hold Some Well-Known Views

By HAL BOYLE
New York. — Spring housecleaning used to involve only a determined line and an unwilling husband — and a few arguments.

For a day or two the place looked like it had been hit by an atomic typhoon. The lady of the house discarded the furniture, knotted an old cloth around her head and began manly flailing the walls, floors and ceilings with mop, broom and dust cloth.

At least that is the dirt had been shaken out of the glaze died down in the lady's eye, and she limped to her couch for a long afternoon nap — victory at rest.

The husband's role in the entire procedure consisted largely of self-silencing. He sat in position over the worn places in the rug. But all it cost him was a few sort muscles. His pocketbook wasn't bruised much.

Today "housecleaning" is as complex as a military amphibious landing — and about as expensive. You don't need the advice of a decorator as much as you do the help of a banker.

At least that is the situation in my cliff-dweller's cave at the moment. Frances began by describing it as a "housecleaning." For two weeks I came home each night to find bathtubs of strange people swabbing the joint seven years old at the walls and waving samples of varicolored bunting that would blazon a chameleon.

Sauser and Choral Club
Well Liked

Martin Sauser, violinist, and the Friday Music Club Choral Group performed before a very appreciative audience last night at the High School auditorium.

Mr. Sauser's well chosen selections proved his technique and interpretation to be quite that of an artist and one of great appeal to his audience.

The Choral Group, under the direction of Mrs. Glen Walker was in beautiful form and harmony, giving a performance of great credit to the music club and the city.

A reception was held following the concert for Mr. Sauser, the Friday Music Club and patrons of the Choral Group.

Those serving were members of the Junior Music Club, "The Key-board."

WITHDRAWALS FROM RACE

Texarkana, April 24 — (AP) — Russell Lee Criner announced today his withdrawal from the race for state representative from Miller county. Criner said he was accepting private employment and would devote his time to the representative's duties.

Criner served in the 1947 legislature but resigned as representative shortly after the session.

Kansas City
Probes Police
Raid on CIO

Kansas City, Kas., April 24 — (AP) — An investigation, ordered by Mayor Clark E. Tucker, was underway today after C.I.O. claims of "police brutality" in the packinghouse strike here.

All but two of 11 persons sent to hospital after police routed pickets from the union hall near the Cudahy Packing House Workers of America (C.I.O.) turned the meeting place into a shambles and brought bitter denunciations from union officials.

Ed M. Baker, district director of the union, said the police were guilty of "common brutality," and said 100 persons were injured less severely than those who entered hospitals.

Today the union was under a temporary restraining order against illegal picketing. The district court order was issued by Judge Willard M. Benton shortly after the battle at the Union Hall.

A hearing on Cudahy's petition for an injunction was continued until Monday morning.

Mayor Tucker said statements reaching him on the police assault were contradictory, and that he would take action only after a complete investigation. He directed the city attorney to make the inquiry and report to him.

"I shall insist the mayor said, 'upon continued enforcement of law, x x x I know that there are some times when force is necessary.'"

Meanwhile, Baker said a strike ordered at eight smaller packing plants here within 24 hours following the onslaught of yesterday might be delayed.

Baker said an extension might be given after he had received pleas that animals on hand could not be processed in the allotted time.

Seventy policemen, the entire Kansas City, Kas., force, rushed the Union Hall near the Cudahy plant early yesterday at few minutes after they had cleared the streets of pickets.

They stormed the meeting place after Police Captain Eli Dahlin had attempted to tell the strikers over a safety car loudspeaker that the police were "not going to take any more guff" in the strike, now in its 40th day.

Before the clash Dahlin had called in the entire police force and told them "you are to crack skulls if they ask for it, no matter who they are."

Dahlin said the fight developed at union headquarters after he had stepped to the door behind which the strikers had gathered. He said his mission was to speak a strike official near the doorway.

"The next thing I knew," Dahlin continued, "they had me inside."

It was at this juncture that officers stormed the place with billy clubs swinging, Dahlin said.

Army Segregation
Policy Attacked
in Group Hearing

Washington, April 23 — (AP) — American League for Democratic Action called on Congress today to put "an end to Jim Crow" in the armed forces of the United States.

Joseph L. Rauh, Jr., chairman of A. L. D. A.'s executive committee, told Congress today that the military's segregation policy was "seriously impaired" unless racial segregation is abolished in the military services.

Robert L. Taylor, a former lieutenant colonel in the Army, said that the military's segregation policy was "seriously impaired" unless racial segregation is abolished in the military services.

Soviet Suspicion That They Are Being Watched by Our
Spies Probably Justified

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

So let's talk about spies. Red Star, the Soviet Army newspaper published in Moscow, says imperialist powers (unnamed) are obviously the major western democracies headed by the United States) are sending two to three times as many spies into Russia as into any "bourgeois" state. The paper demands alertness throughout the Soviet Armed Forces to detect imperialist espionage.

Well, I don't know the ratio of spies assigned to Russia as compared with "bourgeois" states, but it wouldn't be surprising if Red Star were right. Personally I should be greatly disturbed and shocked to learn that the democracies didn't have an army of spies in Russia and Bolshevik satellite countries—just as the Soviet Union has in every other country on the face of the globe.

As a matter of fact in these dangerous days spies are swarming everywhere, like flies on the ceiling of a farm-house kitchen on a frosty morning. Naturally government don't advertise their secret agents, but every major nation has them.

There doesn't have to be an "R" in the month to make spies in season, for they are with us all ways. Of course, when the dogs of war begin to bay at the moon, the spies start to growl about, consequently there is much more activity now in all countries because of the dangerous clash between the Communist bloc and the democracies.

The employment of spies, perpetrated by the average person as unethical, but the custom is general. Most nations employ agents to try to ferret out the secrets of other countries, especially in times of stress. It's an unpleasant thing to contemplate—this spying of nations on one another. Still, when spies are rattling like castanets, it's a matter of national security for countries to know the strength and plans of their enemies.

The real sin is on the agent's own head—when he gets caught. He is the one who has to pay the price of his life. When an agent is caught he generally has to face the music alone, for his government obviously is almost never in position to acknowledge him and back him up. It's the code of the secret agent to take his punishment with sealed lips.

Hunting lions in the jungle is no more hazardous to life than the time of war the firing squad and the executioner take their toll. In peace times the prisons get a lot. I encountered some ex-spies eating their hearts out on notorious Devil's Island off the coast of French Guiana when I visited there a few years ago, and their lives were a terrible punishment.

I've encountered many other secret agents in one country or another. I knew one American agent abroad—a brilliant and charming woman. She got spotted while operating in a European country and all but lost her life. She escaped, but her usefulness had ended because she was a reserved, mild-mannered little lady, as lovely and fragile as a primrose—a very deceiving appearance, for she coupled cleverness with the fighting heart of a tigress.

There were other secret agents busy the world over these days.

3,000 FFA
Will Visit
Exp. Sta. Here

Fayetteville, Ark. — Members of the Future Farmers of America and the New Farmers of America and veterans enrolled in the on-the-job training program in southeastern Arkansas will learn about the latest developments in farm research when they visit the University of Arkansas' Fruit and Truck Branch Experiment Station at Hope.

The second week in May. Near the end of the week, they will attend the special spring days on May 11, 12, and 13, Cecil M. Bille, station superintendent, reports.

Tuesday, May 11 has been set aside for members of the FFA in Arkansas; NFA members and veterans will visit the station on Wednesday, May 12; and the annual Veterans' Farm Training Study Day will be held on Thursday, May 13. All three are all-day events, with lunch on grounds at noon by local FFA and NFA groups.

Growing brambles and truck crops, managing orchards and farm woodlots, developing pastures, controlling farm insects, and conserving the soil are scheduled for discussion at all three days. Those attending will have a chance to see just what is being done at the station along these lines.

In addition, special speaking programs have been arranged for the afternoons of May 11 and 12. O. J. Seymour and J. Marion Adams of the state Vocational Education department, S. D. Mitchell, executive secretary of the Arkansas FFA, and Mr. Bittle will talk on May 11. Speakers on May 12 include C. R. Wilkey, state supervisor of vocational education; Ed McCusker, director of the Division of Negro Education; Mr. Seymour, and Mr. Bittle.

U. S. Moves to Restore Its
War Plants

By FRANK ELEAZER

Washington, April 24 — (UP) — The administration moved today to get some 200 government-owned war plants ready in case of an emergency.

It asked Congress for authority to restore the surplus factories to good condition and place them in a proper "industrial reserve."

The legislation was sent to the Senate Armed Services Committee by the munitions board, and eliminates months of study, the move followed a White House order "freezing" sales of the War Assets Administration for one month.

The munitions board said that because of deterioration in war plants since V-J day, the need for this type of legislation is "especially urgent." Without it, the board warned, "many of the plants will be lost, as some have already been lost."

The administration's request came and these other defense developments:

1. Defense Secretary James Forrestal tentatively approved a plan under which 100 and 10-year-olds would be trained along with draftees, instead of in a separate universal military training program. However, he told the Senate Armed Services Committee in a letter that he believes this compromise plan should be "superceded as soon as possible by a program of universal military training."

2. Members said the House Armed Services Committee is ready to vote yes on a bill to draft men 10-through-25 for two years' military duty. The committee goes into closed session on the bill Tuesday and is slated to report it favorably to the House by Thursday.

Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia, ranking Democrat on the committee, predicted that only three of the 36 members would vote against the draft.

One major aim of the government's war plan proposal is to tie "security strings" to all future sales. These would specify that the plants must be kept in such condition that they could be converted to war plants.

Plans which could not be leased or sold on these terms would be rehabilitated by the government. The Federal Works Administration would maintain them in a "national industrial reserve."

Also involved in the plan are large stocks of industrial equipment and machine tools. Without the proposed new legislation, it was said, some $100 million worth of tools would be sent for scrap.

Another feature of the plan, he explained, would pay $1000 to widows or children of servicemen killed in service. Similar payments would be made to parents, too, if the latter were actually dependent on the serviceman.

Long said the cost of the bonus plan would range between $38,000,000 and $40,000,000.

Ways and means to get the money for the bonus have not been agreed upon. Some $300,000 war veterans are believed eligible under the program.

House Unable to Stop Czech
Tariff Cut

Washington, April 23 — (AP) — Angry House Republicans found themselves up a blind alley today in their hunt for a way to block administration granted tariff cuts to Czechoslovakia.

But they said they are determined to prevent any future concessions to other Soviet-dominated governments.

President Truman last night proclaimed new, lower import duties for Czech products in return for tariff reductions already put into effect by Prague.

Rep. Harness (R-Ind.), who had tried in vain to have the agreement held up, told newsmen he saw little chance that the chief executive might reverse his action "in view of past performance."

But Harness drafted a resolution to put the House formally on record as favoring a withdrawal.

It will go to the House Ways and Means Committee, which plans to start hearings soon on a bill to extend the reciprocal trade agreement act now due to expire June 12.

Tipster Is Quizzed in Reuther Case

Detroit, April 23 —(UP)—Police today questioned a tipster who identified Nelson Davis as the man who boasted he knew who shot United Auto Workers Chief Walter Reuther.

This action followed disclosure in Washington that the Federal Bureau of Investigation yesterday investigated the shooting to see if there was any violation of federal law.

Police refused to identify the tipster who put the finger on Davis, but he reportedly was taken into custody last night.

"If his identity leaks out," said Joseph V. Krug, warned, "we may have another shooting on our hands."

Davis, a 52-year-old Negro and former official of the UAW local, was taken into custody yesterday after the tipster said he boasted, "I know who shot Reuther."

Police said Davis signed an affidavit that he was a Communist. However, he proved to their satisfaction that he was at work at the Ford Motor Company plant Tuesday night at the time Reuther was shot from ambush while standing in the kitchen of his home.

Police held Davis for further questioning today although no charge has been placed against him.

Police also listed for questioning several former officials of the UAW who were purged by Reuther in his drive to oust Communists from the union.

They already have questioned George Addes, former secretary-treasurer of the UAW who was ousted last November. Addes walked into police headquarters last night, made a statement and was released.

He had been requested to appear at police headquarters by Wayne County Prosecutor James N. McNally.

"We had information that at 10:30 p. m. Tuesday night (shortly after Reuther was shot) Addes was seen on a corner talking to two women who were driving a car like the one we are looking for," McNally said.

Witnesses described the getaway car used by the gunmen as a maroon Ford sedan.

Ask Dismissal of Suit Challenging Miller Receipts

Texarkana, April 24 —(AP)—U. S. District Court here has been asked to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction a civil suit questioning the validity for voting purposes of 2,502 poll tax receipts issued in Miller County, Ark.

A motion for dismissal was filed by five defendants accused of handling the receipts in a conspiracy to control approaching elections.

And Federal Judge Harry Lemmon contained federal courts may have jurisdiction in the case. He gave the litigants two weeks and three days in which to file written briefs on the motion.

The suit was brought by 20 Texarkana, Ark., business and professional men.

Red Henchmen Switch After Italian Loss

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, April 23 —(AP)—European Communists may be a result of their defeat in Italy.

Officials studying this possibility said they are willing to resort to violence amounting to civil war they will, at the very least, have to slow down their time table for political conquest.

Two possible moves by Russia enter into speculation.

One is that the Kremlin may order a return to the early post-war efforts to form a common front with non-Communist, left wing political forces which in recent months the Communists have attacked bitterly.

Another possibility — and this one is heavily but not entirely discredited by authorities here — is that the Soviets may take the initiative in seeking a meeting between President Truman and Premier Stalin.

Mr. Truman was asked at his news conference yesterday whether he would be willing to see Stalin. He replied that if the Russian leader wants to come to this country the president would be very happy to see him. But the president said again that he has no intention of leaving the country at the present time.

Stalin was never willing to leave areas under Red Army control for his wartime Big Three conference, and there is no responsible belief here that he would now do so.

However, talk that he might propose a meeting arises from the belief of diplomatic experts that such a move might tend to throw off balance the American anti-Communist program throughout the world. But these same experts also say the Russians themselves probably would interpret any move for a conference a sign of weakness on the part of whoever made it.

That the Italian elections dealt a severe blow to Communist hopes for quick expansion into western Europe is now accepted by American policy makers as a fact beyond question. They say it must be a matter of utmost concern for the Kremlin.

In the first official statement issued here on the sweeping victory of the American-led Christian Democrats, Mr. Truman told reporters:

"Free people everywhere will be encouraged by the outcome of the recent Italian elections. The results demonstrate once again the vitality of the Italian democracy and the determination of the Italians to maintain their freedom and liberty."

Along with their defeat in Italy, the Soviet-directed Communists have two other factors to consider.

First, the European recovery program fueled with American goods and dollars and based on cooperation among all the western nations is getting under way. From now on the Soviets must count on greater strength in western Europe both economically and politically.

Second, the western nations are moving rapidly to construct the framework of what a Russian regard as an anti-Soviet bloc. Moreover some form of direct American military support for this western European union may be given.

Little Rock Looms for Track Title

Little Rock, April 24 —(AP)—Little Rock — the school which has dominated the event over the years — looms as a strong contender again this year in the Arkansas high school track and field meet.

In easily winning the sixth district meet here yesterday, the Tigers qualified 11 performers for the state meet, to be run off here next Friday and Friday night. Nine of the qualifiers took first place.

North Little Rock qualified 12 entries for the state event, most of them on second places.

Little Rock ran up a 73 1-2 point total. North Little Rock was second with 41-2, followed by Benton with 23 and Lonoke with 3.

Bauxite won district Class B honors. North Little Rock won the junior division.

Sen. Fulbright to Head Organization for European Aid

New York, April 24 —(AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas has been elected president of an organization designed to assume close cooperation between the people of the United States and the movement for a European federation.

It is the American committee for a Free and United Europe (Capa). William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to France and Russia, was named vice president at an election meeting here yesterday.

Board of directors includes former President Herbert Hoover, former Postmaster General James A. Farley, former Congressman Clare Boothe Luce and former Sen. Burton K. Wheeler.

2,000 War Dead Come Home From Antwerp, Belgium

Antwerp, Belgium, April 22 —(AP)—The U. S. Army transport Lawrence Victory left Antwerp today carrying 2,000 American war dead from the European theater.

The Lawrence Victory is enroute to New York via Cherbourg, France, where she will take aboard 2,300 more dead from American war cemeteries in France.

Jess Larson Is Mentioned for ECA Job

Washington, April 22 —(AP)—Jess Larson, Oklahoma lawyer and war assets chief, is rated a "good bet" by officials for the No. 3 spot in the new Economic Cooperation Administration.

Secretary of Commerce J. A. Averell Harriman is resigning his cabinet post to take the No. 2 ECA job today. He will be this to the 10 nations taking part in the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program.

The White House announcement surprised Capitol Hill. But there were no predictions that the Senate would delay long in confirming Harriman's nomination.

Larson was mentioned as a possible choice for the remaining top spot — Chief of Staff — by Hoffman — deputy administrator at $17,500 a year. Larson hasn't indicated publicly whether he would accept if the position were offered.

Hoffman is known to have put Larson's name on a preference list prepared for Mr. Truman. He declined to make known any of the names submitted.

Texas May Avoid Break With Party

By The Associated Press

Texas Democrats took a crack at President Truman's civil rights program today, but they may avoid a break with the party if he wins the presidential nomination.

Alabama's Senator Sparkman, meanwhile, fanned the Dixie fire by renewing the boom for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

On the Republican side, Senator Robert A. Taft and Harold E. Stassen pressed their talking tour of Ohio in quest of further support in the May 4 primary. And Gov. Thomas E. Dewey picked up seven more New York State delegates to run his national total to 122.

The Texas Democratic Executive Committee, 35 to 14 last night to recommend an unopposed delegation to the Philadelphia convention in July.

But the group promised to "accord full support to every nominee of the party."

Political observers there took this to mean the state organization would refuse to join any Dixie revolt that may flare after the convention.

As for the civil rights proposals which raised the rebellion threat, the committee said they would destroy home rule and civil liberties in the south.

Mr. Truman who recently broke with Mr. Truman over civil rights, told a reporter he believes Eisenhower will be available for the Democratic nomination despite the general's statement that he "could not accept nomination to high political office."

Communists Arrested by Italy Police

Rome, April 23 —(AP)—Carabinieri keeping the post-election peace in Italy arrested Communists in three communities last night.

The Communist-dominated Popular Front lost to the Christian Democrats in the balloting for a parliament last Sunday and Monday.

Communist Leader Palmiro Togliatti subsequently promised his followers they would not use force against the government. Some of the front's small fry, however, apparently were not taking the defeat so peacefully.

A flying column of carabinieri rushed to the Castello Romani area behind Rome last night and arrested several Communists on charges of preparing punitive expeditions.

The carabinieri picked up seven machineguns, seven automatic rifles, 15 rifles, 10 hand grenades and other assorted weapons.

Carabinieri skirmished with leftists in the village of Russiano near Naples last night, wounding one Communist and killing 20.

Arkansas Soldier Shot in Scuffle in North Carolina
Lumberton, N. C., April 23 —(AP)—Pvt. Harold Lamb, Hot Springs, Ark., was shot fatally here last night.

Lamb, a Fort Bragg soldier, was wounded while in a scuffle with two Indians. The Indians are in custody. The altercation, in which three other soldiers were involved, occurred at a tobacco auction barn.

Lamb's wife and two children live at 515 Elizabeth street, Hot Springs.

DOROTHY DIX Self-Sufficient Wives

Every girl should be taught two trades so that she will have a way of supporting herself should the necessity arise. Also, because it will give her a sense of security that nothing else will, and will, in turn, lead to her pleasure and happiness and pride in herself.

Along with her ABC's, every girl child should be taught the basic principles of housewifery for, no matter what else a woman is going to need in life, she is going to need to know how to cook and sew and make a comfortable home.

Especially is this the case now when competent servants are so vanishingly rare, and when even millionaires have to do their stunts in the kitchen.

In reality, the success of practically every marriage depends more upon the wife's skill as a homemaker than it does upon any other one thing. The thrifty wife helps her husband to make his fortune.

The wasteful wife keeps her husband always on Poverty Lane. The woman who feeds her family on good, nourishing, well-prepared food keeps them well and strong.

The woman who never puts a detergent on the table keeps her husband and children with her cooking. The first disillusion that many a man gets about his beautiful bride is when she sits him down to a dinner of burnt meat and soggy vegetables and pie that would give an ostrich dyspepsia.

Safeguards Independence
On the other hand, there is nothing so sure as a woman's independence with such unbreakable bonds as for her to be a crackjack cook and manager. He sees her always as surrounded by the incense that rises from what's cooking in her pots and pans, and wild horses couldn't drag him away from her. And not only does the domestic woman keep her husband, but she has safeguarded her independence. If need be, she can always get a well-paying job as a cook, or a seamstress.

Every girl, whether she is rich or poor, should learn a trade by which she can be self-supporting, and she should practice it for a year just to prove to herself that she can stand on her own feet. It does more to strengthen a girl's character and cure her of petty faults and weaknesses than anything else in the world, and it is an invaluable preparation for marriage. For when a woman does a man's work, even when the man's point of view and that saves a lot of friction.

The girl who has earned her own living respects money. She doesn't squander it as something to throw at the birds. She sees it stained with the sweat and weariness of labor that makes her use it with care, instead of wasting it in senseless extravagance. The girl who has earned her own money is a different person. She has a sense of responsibility and a sense of pride in her work.

And not the least of the advantages that make the working girl a preferred risk as a wife is that she has learned to control her temper and to park her feelings where they won't be trampled on by harried bosses. And that would save many a marriage from going on the rocks, and keep many a tired business man from having to spend his evenings listening to his shrewish wife's reproaches because he doesn't make as much money as he should.

Baby Found Deserted on City Truck

Minneapolis, April 24 — (AP) — A newborn baby boy, found among garbage parcels on a city truck, was alive and well at Minneapolis General City Hospital today.

Walter Lindel said the attention of himself and another garbage handler was attracted to the newspaper-wrapped package when it stirred after having been dumped into the truck from one of two major cases they were emptying late yesterday.

Investigating, Lindel said he found the child, barren of clothing, wrapped it in his coat and sum-

Top Radio Programs

Central Standard Time New York, April 24 — (AP) — Daylight saving moves back on the scene for another 22 weeks early Sunday morn, but this year with none of the program listing mixups of the past. The three other networks are adopting the ABC system that makes it possible for both Daylight and Standard Time listeners to tune in at their usual hours.

It's done by double transmission. The networks send out their first schedule. An hour later the shows go out again under Standard Time. This is made possible by relays from special recordings.

The overall effort is to give stations operating under Daylight a schedule in keeping with their advanced time. Likewise it permits Standard stations to stick to their usual times.

Arkansas Squad Qualifies for Drake Relays

Des Moines, April 24 — (AP) — University of Arkansas athletes qualified for today's finals in three events of the Drake relays here.

Clyde (Smackover) Scott yesterday earned the right to run in the 120-yard hurdles. He will compete against the great Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace, to whom he finished second in last week's Kansas relays. Northwestern's speedy William Porter and others.

James Harold Cox qualified to represent the Razorbacks in the javelin throw finals. He will compete against the great Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace, to whom he finished second in last week's Kansas relays. Northwestern's speedy William Porter and others.

Arkansas also qualified its team to participate in the 440-yard relay.

Phil Castoffs Beat Dodgers by 10 to 2

New York, April 24 — (UP) — The Philadelphia Phils were doing very nicely today, thank you, because Manager Ben Chapman has been giving the opposition a ration of old, discarded soup bones.

Using pitchers that nobody else seemed to want, they had picked up three victories out of their first four games since the season began.

After losing the 12-4 game to the Cardinals on Tuesday, the Phils won today's game by a 10-2 triumph over the National League champion Dodgers in their home debut at Brooklyn yesterday.

Sylvester (Blix) Donnelly, whom the Cardinals found no need for after losing the 1944 World Series for them, pitched the triumph, scattering eight hits and striking out six. Dick Sisler, also discarded by the Cardinals, hit two homers and a single, driving in four runs to lead the 12-hit attack. Dick Ennis also hit a homer and Rookie Richie Ashburn got three singles and a stolen base. The loser was Lefty Joe Hatten, who previously had beaten Philadelphia six straight times without a win.

Previously, Emil Leonard, discarded by the Senators, and a collaborating trio of Lynn Rowe, ex-Dodger and Tiger star, Ken Heintzelman, late of the Pirates, and Ed Heusser, who was tossed out by the Dodgers, gave the Phils their other victories. Not a man in the lot is under 33 years old.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen had to cash in on breaks to maintain his spell against the Cubs. Chicago, pitching a nine-inning to give the Cards a 1 to 0 victory while loser Johnny Schmitz gave up only two hits in defeat. Schmitz went down in the ninth on a walk and double by Roy Cullen, who hit a triple which produced the only run.

The Giants found a starting and finishing pitcher, wonder of wonders, in Ray Poat and behind his five-hit hurling beat the Braves at Boston, 3 to 2, in a game which was a 10-0 victory for the Giants.

Morever they topped southpaw ace Warren Spahn, who like Boston's other 20-game winner, Johnny Sain, went down to defeat in his first start. Spahn, who had a 1-0 record in two starts, hitting a double and two singles, and Sid Gordon hit a homer for the Giants.

Ewel Blackwell, a 22-game winner last season, became the first major leaguer to score a pair of victories in 1948, topping the Pirates for the second time at Cincinnati, 5 to 3 after surviving two bad early innings. Johnny Wyrostek hit a homer for the Reds who went on to beat the Pirates Kirby Higbe and Vic Lombardi for six extra base hits.

The Senators won their third straight, topping the A's at Philadelphia, 5 to 3 with two runs in the ninth on two singles, a sacrifice and Jake Early's double. The victory put Washington into a second place tie with the A's, who previously had won three in a row from the Red Sox, and with the Tigers.

In turn, the Red Sox found the world champion Yankees a softer touch at New York, blanking them 4 to 0 as Lefty Mickey Harris pitched a five-hitter and Ted Williams shook off his Yankee Stadium jinx with a line drive homer and two singles.

Four home runs, two by Ken Keltner and one each by Larry Doby and Bob Lemon, punctuated a 15-hit Cleveland attack against the Tigers, who kept their losing streak at 10, as the Indians opened 8 to 2. Lemon, hailed as the number two man behind Bob Feller, won his first start handily, scattering six hits.

The Browns and White Sox were idle.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh & Fullerton, Jr.

New York, April 24 — (P) — Looks as if the Wood Memorial would be run at Jamaica today merely to decide which horse might run third in the Kentucky Derby — and, of course, for a little matter of 40,000 bucks. Now that Coaltown has proved he can run a distance there doesn't seem to be any way of stopping the Calumet entry. . . . At Hialeah last winter, Handicapper John Campbell refused to pass judgment on Coaltown until "some horse comes up beside him and looks him in the eye" — which is a horseman's way of saying a horse has met a real challenge. But how can they look him in the eye if they can't get near enough?

Soft Reply

Casimir (Slug) Witucki, one of Indiana's best football linemen, lost 14 pounds during the first week of spring drills. . . . He was displaying his new look to Coach Clyde Smith when Smith noticed that Slug still was carrying some extra weight around his hips. "That might come off too, before we're through," said Clyde. "Oh, no," exclaimed Witucki. Those are my hip pads."

Shorts and Shells

More than 200 entries already have been listed for the final Olympic wrestling trials next week, with 16 of them coming from the Oklahoma Aggies and ten from Iowa State Teachers.

Weak End Notes

Although Michigan's spring football drills haven't gone very far, there already is winter Gene Dericole, Dick Kempthorn, Dom Tomasi, Al Wistert and Dan Dworsky as guys who'll be stars next fall. . . . But on which Michigan team? . . . The Michigan White Sox veteran third baseman is proposing himself as president of the "I Hate Night Baseball" lodge since Stan Hack is out of the majors. . . . Says Appling: "Stan hated it, but not any more than old Luke." . . . Go, we thought they both were old enough to stay out after dark.

Stranahan Has a Big Stake in Tourney

Pinehurst, N. C., April 24 — (UP) — As Frank Stranahan teed off against Harvie Ward in today's 36-hole final round of the South Carolina golf tournament, Stranahan's eyes were trained on more than the mere winning of this 48-year-old event.

The 25-year-old muscular Toledo, Ohio, perfectionist was hoping to make his club lay down an impressive answer by the Augusta Masters' officials who earlier this month banished him from their tournament. In yesterday's semi-finals he beat C. A. Snow.

Today's finals brought together two of the country's better young players in a 36-hole battle. Stranahan, a 34-year-old 22-year-old university of North Carolina Player from Tarboro, N. C.

Ward moved up with a 5 and 4 36-hole semifinal conquest of Arnold Palmer, Wake Forest College player from Lenoir, N. C.

Stranahan had a brilliant 34-36 to go seven up in the morning against Snow over the 6,879-yard No. 2 course. The 26-year-old salesman gained the distinction of taking three holes from Stranahan, the first Frank lost in 35 holes in five matches. Stranahan was over par on only one of 28 holes as his birdie-par barrage broke through Snow's defenses.

San Mateo, Cal., April 24 — (UP) — Jockey Johnny Longden rubbed his balding pate with a muscular hand as he relaxed in the riders' quarters at Bay Meadows track, and said he figured to "keep right on riding" despite a million in the bank and a record of 3,001 wins.

The 38-year-old millionaire jockey booted a second-career horse named Bub under the wire in yesterday's fourth race to become the first rider in American turf history to bring home 3,000 winners.

He also brought in Sun Fair in the sixth to make it 3,001. But that, like the victories to come, was an anti-climax.

Longden said the two-length victory on the unheralded Bub was "the thrill of my lifetime. Not because this horse rated so high, but because I've ridden, but that 3,000 goal!"

The saddle veteran said he had no intention of retiring now, or in the immediate future.

The veteran jockey started riding in 1927 under General Manager William J. Kyne at the Salt Lake City fairgrounds. He had the same boss here yesterday for his 3,006th milestone.
